HARDING SENDS MESSAGE TO COX

Congratulatory WIU Stick to "Front Porch" Campaign Marion, Ohio, July 5 -Senator Harding, the republican candidate for the precidency, spent a quiet day to-day receiving but few callers and devoting his time almost exclusively to his correspondence and the accumulation of data and his speech of acceptance. Immediately after hearing of the selection of Governor Cox as the democratic presidential nominee, however, the senator sent him a gratulatory telegram, while in a statement he said the Ohio governor deserved the nomination but that the selection would in no way alter his plans for a "front porch" campaign. Amplifying his statement later to be newspaper correspondents. Senator Harding said his purpose as well as that of his supporters was to reatore the Republican party to power nominees would have little influence on the outcome of the fight. For that reason the senator said there was no necessity for changing his campaign

In a recent editorial on the present condition of the paper market, a writer called this the Age of Paper, because of the world's absolute dependence on it. Apt as this name is, few realise the comparatively short period that paper has reigned as a medium of expression. for, though it has been known about 2.000 years, it has been in general use only about 500 years, a very short time when compared with the many centuries that and nearly by papyrus was used, or those ages when stone and brick tablets carried the writ- higher today, priced at 55 cents. ten thoughts of mankind, not to mention vellum and parchment, which still flour-

D. the Chinese Emperor sent 20,000 sheets of fine paper as a gift to the Emperor Aurelius. Their secret was brought to Western Asia by the Arbs, who conquered Samar-cand in 751 A. D. and took into captivity Chinese paper makers, employing them to teach this art in Arabia, which became, and remained for a long time, the centre of the paper industry. It proved a fortunate capture. Owing to an embargo placed by one of the Ptolemys (be feared that Alexandria's library would be excelled elsewhere) on Egyptian pa-pyrus, which had for ages been the chief medium for writing, parchment came into use, but the demand so far exceeded the supply that deeds were often execut ed on strips no larger than two inches quare.
